~~the next generation~~ THE NEXT GENERATION

I look out at the Earth what has it come to be?
Construction, destruction and an endless polluted sea.
Our generation is changing for sure,
With phones, social media and a whole big bunch more.
Our mindsets are changing and with climate change
ranging we cannot afford to destroy the creation of the Lord.

Where I live I see kids that play the whole day
they run and have fun, they laugh and take baths.
But in some countries that lie on the other side of the map, there are kids that can't even drink clean water from a tap.
They struggle to survive as their country is deprived of some things I consider to be essential in life.

We must connect with the land in order to stand on the Earth without fear of the end coming near, or drowning in sorrow
for the humans that follow, for we ruined
God's creation for the next generation.
