

What does creation look like to you?

My Laudato Si quote is, “This sister now cries out to us because of the harm we have inflicted on her by our irresponsible use and abuse of the goods with which God has endowed her. We have come to see ourselves as her lords and masters, entitled to plunder her at will.”

This teaching connects to my artwork because I drew and coloured a beautiful Autumn day with red, orange, yellow and green leaves, and a flowing river next to it. My artwork connects to the Laudato Si quote because although humanity uses mother nature without care, sometimes, it’s just nice to stop and admire creation.

Caring for creation demonstrates Hope because everyone on Earth has hope that God’s creation will always be beautiful. It also shows hope because if you have hope, then things will come true. An example of this is a forest that has been burnt down by a fire so people grow more trees, and with hope, it grows to become the forest it was again.
