

How Do you see Peace with Creation?

Layla Lara Symington

“The climate is a common good, belonging to all and meant for all”

This Laudato Si quote resonates with my drawing as this quote is talking about people as a whole, and if we all work together as a team in humanity, we will be able to work a lot done and retrieve hope in earth and community.

I showed teamwork through my drawing by having people help each other and work together to climb the ladder so together they could care for the earth with water and plants. Caring for creation demonstrates our school theme hope by showing the world that it's not too late and if we start now we can restore our hope we have and care for creation properly.
