My drawing

reflection for my drawing

my drawing connects to the laudato Si quote and genesis verse by showing all the people and sea animals around the earth and everything that god created like butterflies, flowers, birds and many more things that God created. Also the cross and angel represent God and Jesus and how we can act like them and the bird and symbol represents peace in our world which is what the laudato Si quote and genesis verse wants us to do. Caring for creation demonstrates that we need to take charge of climate change and pollution by showing hope which is our collage theme of 2025. we can do this by showing respect to our school grounds and outside of school grounds, by picking up rubbish when you see it, reduce plastic waste and many more things to protect our school and earth which is what God would have wanted.
