What does a peace with creation look like to me?

Pure green grass and tall healthy trees

The sound of chirping birds and the refreshing breeze

Picking fruit of the bush day and night

Some sour, some sweet, and some just right

Clear skies where the sun shall beam

Clear air with no smell of gasoline

A healthy environment for the people in need

Growing vegetation and supplying clean water for those they need to feed

Doing our part to reduce our waste

Caring for God's creation and being patient with nature, not acting with haste.

Reducing greenhouse gases, keeping our glaciers big and tall

Creating a safe environment for all.

This poem is about what peace with creation would look like. It emphasizes what our earth would look like if we took the right steps to decrease greenhouse gases and always recycled. The Laudato Si quote “ Nature can not be regarded as something separate from our lives or as a mere setting in which we live”. This quote is asking to never take the earth for granted and to never take advantage of it. We need to take care of God's creation and keep it thriving. This Poem gives Hope for everybody and gives them a glimpse of what life could be life if we take action against global warming.
