Pantoum Poem

Harmony with creation
Inspired by Laudato Si'
Acts big or small
To restore our common home

Inspired by Laudato Si'
Heard around the world
To restore our common home
A vow to reconcile with the Earth

Heard around the world
Acts big or small
A vow to reconcile with the Earth
Harmony with creation

Part B}

Laudato Si quote: “Young people demand change. They wonder how anyone can claim to be building a better future without thinking of the environmental crisis and the sufferings of the excluded.”

Reflection: My poem and quote both link to motivation of others and how to save our planet. People want to care for the Earth, but often don't know how to, and young people are fed up with the old ways that just don't work now. The repetition in my poem matches the ambassadors goal. Laudato Si' is heard around the world, and needs to be acted on by all generations!

Explanation: This matches STC's theme of Hope by showing a fierce determination that we still have a chance at saving our earth as long as we put these actions into practice and make it more well known.
