

Competition entry

Part B - by Sara Dos Santos

My image - "why is it important for young people to reconnect with creation"

Reflection:

This teaching connects with the creation of "why is it important for young people to reconnect with creation" as well as a Laudato si quote "Because of us, thousands of species will no longer give glory to God by their very existence, nor convey their message to us. We have no such right." This both relate to my drawing because its older role model guides younger generations to care for our creation and shows them the importance of helping our world showing them that we need to get better at it. This relates to our St. Columba's theme of hope because it motivates people to get out and care for our home and make positive changes. Knowing that we can make a difference gives young people encouragement and hope that they can do anything in life.